

Welcome to Reality

This is the fine print that was never divulged when I was born. It explains a lot!

Welcome to Human Realm 5856719, also known as Pandora! If you want to know how you ended up getting born here, it will be up to you to contemplate this question during your short life here. Don't expect to be rescued by any external party; self-liberation is a mindset that you must develop.

There is no warranty that is explicit or implied. There is no guarantee of longevity, level of suffering, status, fairness, or health. Pandora is a hostile reality filled with violence, war, racism, sexism, and random destruction. This is negative karma that can also lead to geologic disasters and collisions from space. The inhabitants refuse to believe that this reality is not solid, nor that it is just one of many realities.

Dark angels are trapped here and have turned it into a minor hell. Their false rhetoric constantly creates more chaos and entices followers on a downward path which creates endless cycles of negative karma.

Follow primordial wisdom, and treat dark angels as irrelevant.
